

Integrate Scopus Author ID with ORCID

ORCID is an author identifier that can be used across your entire research career. This identifier can be linked to and used by publishers, databases, funders and organizations, and can save your efforts on manually input information when you submit your manuscript or apply for grants. In addition, by integrating Scopus with ORCID, your publications in Scopus will be added to your ORCID profile. This further increases the visibility of your works.

First you have to register for an ORCID ID, then you have to add publications to your profile and reap the benefits of ORCID.

An easy way to reap those benefits is to integrate your ORCID with your Scopus Author ID. By following a few steps, all your publications indexed in Scopus will be added to your ORCID profile. There are two ways to make the integration between ORCID and Scopus:

Option 1: From Scopus, by using the "Add to ORCID" (recommended, especially when you know your Scopus ID)

Option 2: From ORCID by using the "Search & Link"

Option 1 – from Scopus

1. Access Scopus
2. Click on "Author Search", fill your last name and first name and click search.

About Scopus Author Identifier &gt;

Author last name "angelides", Author first name "panayiotis"

Edit

The Scopus Author Identifier assigns a unique number to groups of documents written by the same author via an algorithm that matches authorship based on a certain criteria. If a document cannot be confidently matched with an author identifier, it is grouped separately. In this case, you may see more than one entry for the same author.
